

Guido Van Huylenbroeck

ENLIGHT Project Coordinator. Academic Director for Internationalisation. Ghent University. Belgium.

Prof. Guido Van Huylenbroeck is full professor in Agricultural and Rural Environmental Economics at Ghent University. He holds a PhD in agricultural economics since 1988 and is Doctor honoris causa of the National University of Life and Environmental Sciences of Ukraine, Aleksandras Stulginskis University in Lithuania and Slovak Agricultural University. His research area is institutional economics, agricultural policy and rural development. He is also the founder of the Erasmus Mundus international joint master degree in rural development (IMRD), a course jointly organized by 6 EU universities and 8 non-EU universities. He is author or co-author of more than 350 publications of which \pm 175 peer reviewed journal articles and supervised so far 30 PhD theses.

He served for 7 years as Dean of the Faculty of Bioscience Engineering of Ghent University (2008-2015) and is since October, 1st 2015 appointed as Director of Internationalization of Ghent University and in this function responsible for the international outreach policy of the university, the cooperation with the Global South, the development of the European University Alliance ENLIGHT and for the Ghent University Global Campus, Incheon, South Korea. He also served as board member and treasurer (2005-2017) of the European Association of Agricultural Economists and as board member and president (2010-2016) of ICA (the European Association of Agricultural Universities and Faculties).

