Impact Manager. Euskampus Foundation. University of the Basque Country (UPV/EHU). Spain.

As the Euskampus Impact Manager, I am responsible for developing and promoting the management strategy of impact within the institution.

I hold a degree in Social Work, I completed a Master's Degree in Ethics for Social Construction by the Deusto University and in 2020 I gained a PhD in Human Rights, specialising in the assessment of the impact of organisations from the perspective of ethics. I became part of the team in July 2020 and I took on the challenge of developing and strengthening the skills and abilities that I have earned in the field of assessment of the impact of organisations.

Earlier, I had worked at the Deusto University, as a professor of the Social Work bachelor's degree and of the Double bachelor's degree in Social Work and Social Education, teaching subjects related to Quantitative and Qualitative Research in Social Sciences. As part of my relationship with the Deusto University I was also involved as an expert and educator in the field of entrepreneurial ethics. I also have professional experience in the field of social intervention, more specifically with people in risk of social exclusion
