

Jorge Molina Martinez

Project officer. European Research Executive Agency. Belgium.

Jorge works as a Project Officer at the European Research Executive Agency (REA). With a background in Environmental Sciences and Industrial Engineering, complemented with postgraduate studies in Project Management, Jorge gathers more than 20 years of professional experience in capacity building and internationalisation of Research & Innovation and Higher Education. He has held different positions during his career, such as Research Assistant, Project Manager, Regional Contact Point for the EU RTD FP7 Framework Programme and Internationalisation Officer, working mostly for public education and research organisations. In his current position at REA, Jorge has been in charge of the management of 10 out of the 39 European University Alliances projects funded under the H2020 SwafS programme, as well as of Feedback to Policy within unit C4 in REA, including also the coordination of the REA publications “Progress of University Alliance Projects” in 2023 and “Report on good practices from European University Alliances Projects (pilot II)”, “Researchers’ Skills” and “Report of Research Assessment” in 2024.

