

Mara Noblet

Quality Assurance & Impact Manager. ERUA University Alliance. France.

Mara Noblet is the Quality & Impact Manager for the European Reform University Alliance (ERUA), where she oversees quality assurance, impact measurement, and results monitoring across the alliance's eight partner universities, working closely with governance bodies and stakeholders to ensure ERUA's long-term sustainability and relevance. ERUA is a network of young, reform-oriented universities across Europe, committed to reimagining higher education through inclusive, experimental, and socially engaged learning and research.

With over seven years of experience in higher education in France and internationally, she has developed expertise in accreditation processes, compliance, institutional quality frameworks, and international mobility.
