

Ramon Flecha

Emeritus Professor. University of Barcelona. Spain.

Ramon Flecha is Emeritus Professor of Sociology at the University of Barcelona and Doctor Honoris Causa by the Vest Timisoara University. World's Number 1 in the Google Scholar ranking in two research areas: Social Impact and Gender Violence. Principal investigator of 4 projects of the European Research Framework Programme, currently ALLINTERACT (H2020) on citizen participation in the evaluation of the social impact of research. The FP6 INCLUD-ED project, which he led, was the only project in Social Sciences and the Humanities selected by the European Commission in its list of 10 successful scientific researches.

Recruited by the European Commission as Chair of the Expert Group that has defined the criteria for policy and societal impact of all sciences in Horizon Europe. Advisor on policy and societal impact of research in various sciences. He has published in top-level scientific journals such as Nature, Harvard Educational Review or Violence Against Women, also winning the prize for the best article of the year 2013 in the Cambridge Journal of Education.

